The Course

If you're already working as a teacher or trainer at a recognised training or educational establishment within the Further Education and Skills sector and looking to progress your career, then this programme may be ideal for you. You will have the opportunity to develop the skills to play a full part in teaching and curriculum development. The programme allows you to focus on your particular subject specialist area, alongside general teaching in the Further Education and Skills sector and a significant amount of your learning happens in your place of work allowing you to put theory into practice.

Course Aims

- > To provide initial teacher education for the Further Education and Skills sector, which develops excellent practical skills underpinned by an understanding of the theoretical basis for practice.
- > To challenge and support you become an autonomous, self-regulating professional with a comprehensive, critical understanding of developments in the sector.
- > To provide you with the opportunity to meet relevant professional standards, for example the standards for teachers in the Lifelong Learning sector and the UK Professional Standards Framework for Higher Education.
- > To develop your knowledge and understanding as required to plan, implement, assess and evaluate learning in own specialist area.
- > To develop your practical skills in supporting and enabling learning, plus interpersonal skills associated with your intended or actual work role.
- > To take an inclusive approach to teaching and learning, addressing issues of social justice.
- > To show commitment to, and critical understanding of, professional values, knowledge and skills.

Teaching and Learning Approach

This programme is delivered with a variety of learning and teaching approaches. For all modules, theory lectures are delivered that aim to deliver the core content and provide the underpinning knowledge. To complement the theory lectures, students have group seminars that are used to reinforce concepts delivered theoretically. The teaching methods focus on facilitating a student-centred approach to enhance the independent learning that takes place outside of the classroom.

Time Required on Campus

The programme is taught one evening per week and requires 250 teaching hours over the two years. Attendance at a one-day conference at the University of Huddersfield is required in the second year of the programme.

Work Experience

Relevant work experience placement based on subject specialisms are a requirement of the programme. You will be encouraged to attend training events, team meetings and other relevant curricular activities to support their role whilst in placement. The teaching practice hours will be undertaken within your workplace, supported by your identified subject specialist mentor.

How You're Assessed

The programme will incorporate a variety of assessment methods across each academic year. The mix of assessments will seek to challenge and evaluate your knowledge, understanding and skills. Assessments for this programme may include written assignments, portfolios, practical assessments (observation of teaching) and a research project to present to conference in year two.

Clothing, Equipment and Additional Costs

- > A suitable electronic device, e.g. a laptop or tablet, with internet connectivity is required for accessing online learning and completing assignments.
- > The location of your placement may require you to travel so please be aware of any associated travel costs.
- > On successful completion of the programme, students have the opportunity to graduate at a ceremony wearing formal dress. The hire of the formal dress is an additional cost.
- > If you decide to apply for QTLS status this will be an additional cost. You can find out more on the Society for Education and Training website.
